1989 STATE SUMMARY

Wisconsin has 373 independent public libraries organized into 17 public library systems. These systems and public libraries serve 4.9 million state residents. All public libraries and all counties were system members as of January 1, 1990. Included in the 373 independent libraries are 7 consolidated county libraries (the county provides all services). Two libraries are joint city-county libraries and 26 are joint municipal libraries. Three hundred thirty-one libraries are organized as municipal public libraries. Seven counties supplement local library service with county library service organizations. Nearly two-thirds of the libraries are located in communities of under 4,000 population.

Support for public libraries remains primarily a local responsibility. Of the $93.5 million in public library operating income in 1989, municipalities provided $59.9 million or 64 percent of the total and counties provided $16 million, 17 percent. State aid accounted for 9.4 percent of all income while federal aid provided 1 percent. Contract income, gifts, endowment, and all other income contributed the remaining 8.6 percent. Total funding increased by 3.7 percent over 1988.

Local tax support for public libraries varies considerably. Per capita support ranges from under $1 to a high of $41.64. The state average per capita support is $15.59. Residents supporting a local municipal library, including consolidated counties and joint libraries, average $19.02 per capita. Non-resident users, those living outside the municipal jurisdiction of the library's home community, support public library service at an average rate of $6.12 per capita.

Expenditures for public library service increased by nearly 4.28 percent over 1988. Salaries, wages and benefits accounted for 69 percent of all expenditures. These expenditures include estimated wages and benefits for maintenance staff. In the library statistics following this section these costs have been included under Other Operating Expenditures. They are estimated here so that this classification remains comparable with previous year's statistics. Library materials expenditures were $12.8 million, 14.6 percent of all spending. All other expenditures were 16.4 percent of all funds spent.

System and public library staffs (full-time equivalents), excluding maintenance, increased in total from 2,229.4 in 1988 to 2,323.7 in 1989. However, the number of librarians holding a MLS remained about the same as last year at 537. The number of direct loans exceeded 36 million with per capita circulation at 7.5. The annual rate of increase of 3.3% exceeded the 1988 annual increase rate of 3.1%. The total number of volumes held and volumes added increase by 5 percent and 8 percent respectively. The number of titles added, however, decreased by 7.5 percent from 1988. Holdings of periodical titles showed a decline of 11 percent, apparently the result of a new definition for that category used for the first time this year. The number of video recordings held continued to increase dramatically increasing by nearly 60 percent over last year. The number of video cassettes held statewide has increased from 7,300 in 1984 (the first year statistics were collected) to 99,870 in 1989. Audio recordings held increased by nearly 7 percent.

The data presented in this report was compiled from information collected through the Wisconsin Public Library Annual Report - 1989.

PUBLIC LIBRARY STANDARDS

In 1986 the Wisconsin Public Library Standards Task Force reviewed 1985 public library data and developed standards based, in some cases, on percentile measures for library characteristics by library community population groupings. The results of that analysis are updated and presented in the following tables. These tables compare library holdings, staff and hours open by population groupings. The standard for each of these measures is the 50th percentile. Originally population groupings were created based on public library home community size. Tables 1 through 9 present percentiles values based on this population.

Using the public library's home community size as a measure of the population served has several disadvantages. Chief among them is the failure to account for the 25 percent of the state's population living outside of communities supporting a public library. In an attempt to overcome this limitation, the Division for Library Services has estimated the number of non-residents served and by adding that estimate to the population of the home community has arrived at an initial estimate of each library's total service population. This assignment of the non-resident population will be reviewed by system and local librarians in the upcoming year.

The non-resident population served was estimated by dividing the community population by the total of all community populations for each county and multiplying the result by the county non-resident population. For example, consider a county of population 20,000. The total population of communities with libraries is 16,000. The population of non-residents served by these libraries is then 4,000. The assignment of these persons to a library would be done as follows:

Library	Pop.	Pop. / Pop. Total	Non-Resident Est.	Total Served
City A	8,000	$8,000/16,000 = .50$	$.50 \times 4,000 = 2,000$	10,000
Village B	4,000	$4,000/16,000 = .25$	$.25 \times 4,000 = 1,000$	5,000
Village C	4,000	$4,000/16,000 = .25$	$.25 \times 4,000 = \underline{1,000}$	5,000
Totals	16,000		4,000	20,000

Tables 1A through 9A present the percentile rankings for libraries by total estimated service population. Holdings and staff per 1,000 population or per capita standards have been recalculated in these tables to correspond with the estimated service population.

The data can be used for comparative planning purposes. For example, a library serving a total estimated population of 7,000 people that makes available 3.8 volumes per capita is placed at just over the 70th percentile (see Table 2A); its rate of holdings per capita is greater than that of about 70 percent of the libraries in its population group.

1990 STATE SUMMARY

Wisconsin has 377 independent public libraries organized into 17 public library systems. These systems and public libraries serve 4.9 million state residents. All public libraries and all counties were system members as of January 1, 1990. There are 7 consolidated county libraries with the county providing all public library services. Two libraries are joint city-county libraries and 27 are joint municipal (city, village and town) libraries. Three hundred thirty-three libraries are organized as municipal public libraries. Eight counties supplement local library service with county library service organizations.

Support for public libraries remains primarily a local responsibility. Of the $100.4 million in public library operating income in 1990, municipalities provided $64.2 million or 64.1 percent of the total; and counties provided $17.6 million, 17.5 percent. State aid accounted for 10.6 percent of all income while federal aid provided about 1 percent. Contract income, gifts, endowment, and all other income contributed the remaining 7 percent. Total funding increased by 7.3 percent over 1989.

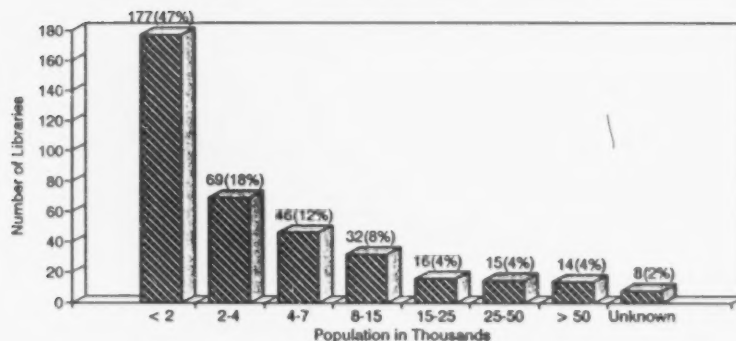

Local tax support for public libraries varies considerably. Per capita support ranges from under $2 to over $42. The state average per capita support is $16.73. Residents supporting a local municipal library, including consolidated counties and joint libraries, average $20.22 per capita. Non-resident users, those living outside the municipal jurisdiction of the library's home community, support public library service at an average rate of $6.88 per capita.

Expenditures for public library service increased by 8 percent over 1989. Salaries, wages and benefits accounted for 67.4 percent of all expenditures. Library materials expenditures were $13.7 million, 14.4 percent of all spending. All other expenditures were 18.2 percent of all funds spent.

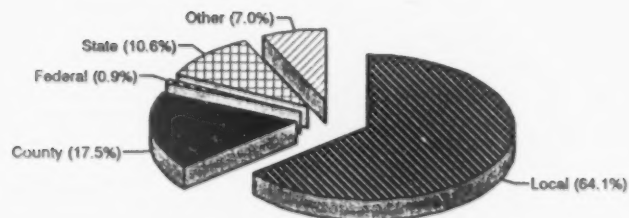

System and public library staff FTEs (full-time equivalents) increased in total from 2,512.7 in 1989 to 2,557.7 in 1990. The number of FTE librarians holding a MLS increased 3.3 percent from last year's 537 to the 1990 total of 554.6. The number of direct loans exceeded 38.7 million with per capita circulation at 7.4. The annual rate of increase of 6.6 percent doubled the 1989 annual increase rate of 3.3 percent. The total number of volumes held increased by 3.7 percent. The number of titles added increased by 9.1 percent from 1989. Holdings of periodical titles showed an increase of 4.1 percent. The number of video recordings held continued to grow increasing by nearly 24.9 percent over last year. The number of video cassettes held statewide has increased from 7,300 in 1984 (the first year statistics were collected) to 124,706 in 1990. Audio recordings held increased by nearly 4 percent.

The data presented in this report were compiled from information collected through the Wisconsin Public Library Annual Report - 1990. Definitions used for the reporting of this public library data are those developed under the Federal-State Cooperative System for Public Library Data.

PUBLIC LIBRARY STANDARDS PERCENTILES

In 1986 the Wisconsin Public Library Standards Task Force reviewed 1985 public library data and developed standards based, in some cases, on percentile measures for library characteristics by library community population groupings. The results of that analysis are updated and presented in the following tables. These tables compare library holdings, staff and hours open by population groupings. The standard for each of these measures is the 50th percentile. Originally population groupings were created based on public library home community size. Tables 1 through 9 present percentiles values based on these populations for the data provided by the 1990 Wisconsin Public Library Annual Report.

Using the public library's home community size as a measure of the population served has several disadvantages. Chief among them is the failure to account for the 25 percent of the state's population living outside of communities supporting a public library. In an attempt to overcome this limitation, the Division for Library Services has estimated the number of non-residents served and by adding that estimate to the population of the home community has arrived at an initial estimate of each library's total service population.

The non-resident population served was estimated by dividing the community population by the total of all community populations for each county and multiplying the result by the county non-resident population. For example, consider a county of population 20,000. The total population of communities with libraries is 16,000. The population of non-residents served by these libraries is then 4,000. The assignment of these persons to a library would be done as follows:

Library	Pop.	Pop. / Pop. Total	Non-Resident Est.	Total Served
City A	8,000	$8,000/16,000 = .50$	$.50 \times 4,000 = 2,000$	10,000
Village B	4,000	$4,000/16,000 = .25$	$.25 \times 4,000 = 1,000$	5,000
Village C	4,000	$4,000/16,000 = .25$	$.25 \times 4,000 = \underline{1,000}$	5,000
Totals	16,000		4,000	20,000

Tables 1A through 9A present the percentile rankings for libraries by total estimated service population. Holdings and staff per 1,000 population or per capita standards have been recalculated in these tables to correspond with the estimated service population.

The data can be used for comparative planning purposes. For example, a library serving a total estimated population of 7,000 people that makes available 3.8 volumes per capita is placed at just over the 60th percentile (see Table 2A); its rate of holdings per capita is greater than that of about 60 percent of the libraries in its population group (4,000 to 7,999).
